SILVER PLANS

Second Day's Session of the Bi-Metallic Convention.

Motion for the Appointment of a Ways and Means Committee.

GREETINGS FROM THE ST. LOUIS KNIGHTS OF LABOR

Address by Bx-United States Senator N. P. Bill of Colorado-The Adoption of the Gold or Single Standard Invariably Followed by Poverty and Depression-The Great Divergence Between the Two Money Metals-General Pro-

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 .- The delegates to the National Bi-Metallic Convention were a little late in assembling this morning, the evening session of last night having been prolonged to so late an hour that a quorum was not present at 9:30 this forenoon. General good nor prevalled over the prospect that the nancial troubles that have been embarrassing the Finance Committee would be satis-factorily adjusted. When the convention vesterday found the First Methodist Church small, and it was imperative that a larger hail be secured, the proprietor of he Central Music Hall exacted a rental of $400 for the use of the hall for two days. There were a great many protests against this charge, but the committee was in a quandary and time pressing and the terms ictantly agreed to. Considerable was experienced in raising the ey, a local Finance Committee having practically pledged itself to provide a ball of expense to the delegates. This morning several wealthy del-egates came to the rescue of the local committee, and in a few minutes sufficient money was raised and all the obligations of convention promptly discharged. The agent of the building, who had posted himself at the door early this morning and refused to open the door till ex-Senator Hill, ex-Congressman Symes and C. S. Thomas had personally guaranteed the rent, retired with a profusion of apologies for his hasty

When President Thurman called the convention to order, Mr. J. S. Daugherty of Texas made the following motion: "That a committee of one member from each State appointed to devise a plan and provide ways and means for impressing on Congress nd the people of the country the impending peril now threatening the ruin of our terial interests and of which we have only had a foretaste of the results which are sure to follow the establishment and continuance of gold as the exclusive measure of value in country, and that the committee report to the convention the plan for appropriate

After some discussion the matter was referred to the Committee on Resolutions. A telegram from District Assembly, No. 4 of L. St. Louis, sending greetings and stating the Assembly has passed resolutions demanding the free and unlimited coinage of er at a rate of 16 to 1 was read. Ex-United States Senator N. P. Hill of Colrado addressed the convention on the silver question for nearly an hour. His arguments re chiefly based on statistics tending show the adoption of gold or single standard in any country had invariably been followed by poverty and country depression. He said the divergence between the value of gold and silver as metals is now greater than when the United States Comdary can now be set to the divergence that may be reached hereafter, especially if the foremost silver-producing country in the world shall lend itself to the attempt made to establish a universal gold stand gold has nothing to do with the present depression. The amount of money now locked up is more than double the amount of gold now in the country. The supposition that by repealing the Sherman act and thus bringing on a great fall in the price of the metal we could coerce Europe into a bime tallic treaty is a snare. If we are driven by conspiracy to resort to a single standard in the country we should by all means use silver. [Applause].

If we restore silver to its old place as money metal by its unlimited coinage and if under the force of circumstances order which weihave no control our gold should be drained away, we will still maintain the first position among the nations of the world and we will compel England, Germany and France to at once adopt bimetallism. [Great Applause.] In the conclusion of his address ex-Senator Hill said: "It is not Western Europe who is the master of the situation, but the United States. We have had a bimetallic currency since the first settlement of America. All our traditions are bimetallic. In the constitution of our present form of Government, now more than a century old, bimetallism is immovably imbedded. The judgment of the country is undoubtedly in favor of continuing in the old way. In all events we will, by maintaining our double standardlaw, make to mankind a standing offer to continue in the old way by keeping our mints always open to all comers for the coinage of gold at the rate in silver of it of a But if Western Europe perseveres in measures which raise gold to such a height that it flows away from as because we cannot retain it in monetary use without intolerable sacrifices, and if silver becomes at last our sole metallic money it is this country which will be carried to a pitch of prosperity transcending all the past, and it is Western Europe which will be plunged into an abyss of ruin. It is not conceivable that the men who control public affairs will push the gold conspiracy to any such extremity. If they can cajole usinto cooperation in their schemes of financial aggrandisement they will thankfully accept and profit by our aid. But when they become convinced we mean to use the power of protecting our own interests which the situation gives us, they will in all probability recoil from a contest which can have no other issue for them but a fatal one. If they do not recoil from it they will only give another illustration of the wisdom of the saying of the ancients that whom the gods would destroy they first make mad." [Appleads of the pr metal by its unlimited coinage and if under the force of circumstances order which

Ex. senator Doolittle of Wisconsin presented the following resolutions, which were referred to the committee on Resolutions:

Resolved, That the Constitution of the United States in declaring that no State thail columoner, emit built of credit or make anything but gold and silver a tender in payment of debts, and at the same time declaring that Congress shall have power to columoner, regulate the value thereof and of foreign coin, gave to the Federal Government supreme jurisdiction over the money question.

Resolved, That, instead of fixing the relative ratio of value between gold and silver coin, the constitution expressly gives to Congress the power to ascertain and declars that ratio as it may change from time to time, as was done during the administration of Jackson.

Congressman Francis G. Newlands of Nevada followed in an address outlining Congressional legislation on the silver question. England, he said, is the great gold owning country of the world. We owe her hundreds of millions of dollars. We have in this country $600,000,000 of gold to-day which can be withdraw to-morrow if England wishes. If the withdrawal of $100,000,000 of gold this year has produced the present panic, what disaster may not be produced when we are dependent on England and she chooses to call on us for her gold. England has the gold of the world and she knows her own interests. We have the silver of the world but we don't know our own interests. We have the silver of the world but we don't know our own interests. (Applause.) The need of credit must be given to England, which knows how to protect her gold, and not to America, which knows not how to protect her silver. As the tax on tea precipitated the Revolution, and led to political independence, so the present blew at silver might lead to financial independence from the old world. United States Senator Alien of Nebraska provoked much enthusiasm in a brief but stirring speech. His salient points were: The present panic was first created by the bankers of the country for their own, sellish purposes, but it has become farther reaching than they expected, and the bankers themselves have become involved and have appealed to the President and Congress for aid. The time has come for acdon, not for talk. We (the Populists) told you last fall of the impending danger, but you did not believe us. Now you are obliged to stand out from your own parties and stand up for the American home as against the British home. I do not come here to talk polities, but I want to say so far as the Populist party is represented in the Senate it will not be found wanting [applause]. We may not understand the parliamentary maneuvering as well as some, but I tell you we will be in sight of the box all the time faughter], Our party is piedged now and for all the free-coltage of silver at the rate of 16 to 1 [cheers].

Hon. C. S. Thomas, the prominent Colorado atterney, followed in a short address. "Gold and silver," said Mr. Thomas, "are the money of history and of civilization. They have been united from prehistoric days down to the hour when the malignity of man, driven on by insatiable avarice, saw fit to proclaim an artificial and infamous divorce between the two metals. [Applause.] They say we are lunatics, yet we are proposing nothing new, but simply the return to a system sanctified and hallowed by the history of 4,000 years." [Cheers.]

hothing new, but simply the return to a system sanctified and hallowed by the history of 4,000 years." (Cheers.)

In conclusion, Mr. Thomas said, the adversaries of the white metal objected to free coinage because silver mined in other countries would flow into the United States. But, he added, it but shows if free coinage is adopted it will make silver worth $129 and it will stay at that. He then quoted several well-known authorities on financial questions, among them Baron Rethschild and John Sherman. The latter was quoted from the Congressional Record of March 6, 1876, as follows: "It should be received as a fundamental fact, so as to guide the statesmen of this country, that the reverse of what stits England always suits us, and as the exclusive gold standard undoubtedly suits her, the double standard suits us."

Recess was then taken until 2 p. m.

THE PLATFORM.

The Planks on Which the Bi-metallists Will Stand. The following is the platform adopted by the Convention to-day:

Whereas, Hi-metallism is ancient as human history, for certainly more than 3,000 years gold and silver came down through the ages hand in hand, their relations to each other having varied but a few points in all that time, and then almost invariably through legislation; and all the almost invariably whereas. The two meals are named together, indiscolubly united in the concatitution of the United States as the money basis of this country, placed there by George Washington and his associates, subsequently indored and defended by Andrew Jackson and Abe Lincoln; and,

Whereas, Silver, one of these ancient metals, was in the year 1873, without any previous demand by parentage of the measure was in part accrived by the friends of the bill to one Ernest Syd. a London banker, who, it is claimed, was sent over to Washington by the money classes of the Old World, to secure its passage by secret and corrupt means; the content of the two and the content means of the world was, by striking declared long after that he did not know it demonstrated long after that he did not know it demonstrated long after that he did not know it demonstrated he would was, by striking down one-half of the money supply, tewit: silver, to deuble the value of the remainder; gold, by making it the equivalent of more of everything possessed and produced by the labor of man, thus reducing the price of all commodities, arresting enterprise, impoverishing the teller and degrading mankind. That these results were not only inevitable but forestend, appears by the following language that of the Bank of France, who said: "lif by a siroke of the pen they suppress one of the metals in the mostary service, they double the demand for the other metal, to the ruin of all debiors." And.

Whereas, The consequences thus prophesied, are new upon the people of the whole world. We stant in the midst of distress and in the shadew of impending calamities, which are beyond estimate. Again he said: 'I believe gold and allver to be the money of the constitution, indeed the money of the American people which the great organic law recognized as quite independent of its own existence. have, as we believe, precipitated the present panic on the country in an fill-advised effort to control Congress on the silver question and the issue of bonds. We invite the bankers to attend to their legitimate business and permit the rest of the people to have their full share in the control of the isovernment. In this way they will do much to restore that confidence which is so necessary to the prosperity of the people. It must not be forgotten that while boards of trade, chambers of commerce, bankers and money dealers are worthy and valuable men in their place; the republic can more safely repose on the great mass of its peaceful tollers and producers, and that this "business man's are" is rapidly exterminating the business men of this country. The thon has come when the politics of shation that the conditions out of which the republic arose. We suggest for consideration that the refusal of the opponents of bimetallism to provide any substitute for the present law or to elaborate any plan for the future indicates an ignorance of our financial needs or an unwillingness to take the public into their confidence; and we denounce the attempt to unconditionally repeal the Sherman law as an attempt to secure gold monometa ismin a flagrant violation of the last national platforms of all political parties.

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 2.—The Chamber of Commerce last evening adopted a resolution asking for the immediate repeal of the Sherman silver purchase act, declaring the wide-spread disaster and distress at present prespread disaster and distress at present prevailing are largely the direct outcome of the threatened overturning of the protective policy of the country and requesting the Senate and House of Representatives to adopt a joint resolution to the effect that no legislation shall, during the next four years, be effected upon the subject, or in any way affecting the duties levied upon imports of merchandise.

An amendment offered by Nelson Bennett to the latter clause was adopted, as follows: "Excepting that those articles including sliver which are not now on the protected list shall have equitable protection with all others."

or. Miller of Ferguen Pronounces the Wound Not Daigerous-No Reasons for the Shooting Known-Mrs. Bell, Mr. Turner's Bousekeeper-Strange Reticence About the Affair.

Great excitement has been caused among residents of the town of Normandy by a shooting affair which occurred there on Monday night. Miss Mary Bell, the housekeeper for Capt. Thomas Turner was standing hear a window in the Turner residence when some unknown per-son fired at her with a pistol from the outside, inflicting a wound in her shoulder. The a vigorous search was made for him succeeded in making his escape. All efforts to ascertain who he was or the motive for his cowardly assault have been in vain and deep mystery surrounds the affair.

Miss Bell has been in Capt. Turner's family for a number of years. She occasionally came to St. Louis, and on Monday evening returned to the depot at Normandy from this city and proceeded home in a carriage.

SHOT AT THE WEDOW.

She reached the house safely, and some time afterward approached one of the wintime afterward approached one of the windows with a light in her hand when the shot was fired, the ball entering the shoulder and inficting a paintul wound. The household was thrown into a state of great confusion and terror, as it was feared Miss Bell was killed. A message was dispatched to Wellston for Dr. Miller, who went at once to Normandy and dressed Miss Bell's wounds. He pronounced the injury not of a dangerous character, and to-day she was reported as getting along nicely.

SAID TO HAVE FOLLOWED RER.

SAID TO HAVE FOLLOWED HER. Bell was followed out from the city by the parties who did the shooting. It is said that two or three men got on a car with her and rode out to Normandy Station. When she got on there they followed her, it is stated, and Capt. Turner's colored coachman had te whip up the horses to get away from the men. It is said that they would probably have shot them had it not been for fear that they might hit the coachman instead of the woman. Whether their story is correct could not be verified as Mr. Thomas T. Turner was not down at his office to day, and the men employed there claimed to have no knowledge; whatever of the affair.

Miss Mary Bell, who was shot, is a woman close on to 40 years of age. She is said to be a Canadian by birth. In appearance she is quite buxom. She has been employed as houskeeper for Capt. Turner for years, having been there since before his wife left for the East, where she has since resided. parties who did the shooting. has since resided.

The fact that no report of the shooting has been made to the police adds an air of mystery to the affair.

SATS IT WAS ACCIDENTAL. Mr. Charles H. Turner, brother of Capt. accidental; that a negro had fired at some dogs, the bullet striking the girl, who was standing in the window.

Delay in Pension Payments WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 2 .- Owing to th disinclination of the National Banks of the country to part with their currency at this time, it is probable that the pensioners who are to be paid this month will experience a delay in receiving their money. This state of affairs is brought about by the banks, which have heretofore cashed all pension checks presented, but now several of the more prominent banks in the West have notified the Treasury Department that in view of the financial stringency they do not feel justified in continuing at present the policy pursued by them in the past. All pensions are paid by check, drafts at the agency in favor of the pensioners, generally on the Sub-Treasurf at New York. The custom has been for the pensioner to present his check at his local bank, receive the money for it, the bank in turn spodling it on to New New York for collection. This requires considerable ready money, in some instances $100,000 a day. me, it is probable that the pensioners who

The banks are not favorably mpressed with The banks are not favorably mpressed with this idea, as their cash in dispensing pensions at all is simply a matter of convenience to holds, and to deposit bonds is an additional trouble that they do not wish to undertake. All of the banks have indicated a purpose to receive pension checks for collection only, and this will probably be the outcome of the present hitch. This will occasion from seven to ten days' delay. Pension checks paid at Indianapolis, Knoxville, Tenn., Louisville and New York are drawn on the Sub-Treasury at New York; those at Philadelphia on the Sub-Treasury at Philadelphia, and those at Topeka, Kan., on the Sub-Treasury at St. Louis.

THE MINERS' TROUBLES. The Convention at Kansas City-Pay Day

Kansas Citt, Mo., Aug. 2.—The Convention of Miners, representing more than forty mines in Missouri, was opened here yesterday at the Coates House. After an executive session, which continued all day an ultimatum was framed, demanding a settlement by arbitration, before Aug. 5, of their troubles, or else a general sympathy strike would be inaugurated on Aug. 7 in all Missouri mines.

Various resolutions were also passed. Among the most important of these was the following:

Reselved, That this Convention elect an Executive Board of five members to be added to the regular board of this (the Fourteenth) district, maxing ten in all; and be is further

Reselved, That this board be authorized to confer with the eperators of Ransas and Missouri with view of estiling the frouble now existing in those with the eperators of Ransas and Missouri with a convention demand a conference not later than Aug. 3 and a settlement not later than Aug. 5; and be if further

Resolved, That if the Executive Board fail to adjust a settlement, that all the miners of Missouri will suspend work at the call of the Executive Board, the said call not to be later than the 7th inst.

Among the leaders were President Walters of the United Mine-workers' Association, District No. 14; Secretary I. W. Lacy of Pittsburg, Ran.; T. B. McGregor and A. S. Glasgow of Leavenworth, a member of the Executive Board. President Walters made no address save to explain the condition of affairs in Kansas. He was questioned considerably by Missouri miners. The acceptance is under protest, and is to last only till the financial panic subsides. A request that they be paid on the 10th of each month has been made. Thomas Oglesby, the miner who released Thomas Mackey, a fellow workman, from the Bevier jail, where he had been placed for a misdemeanor, was yesterday sentenced, withhis companion, to ninety days' imprisonment.

New shafts are also being sunk in various parts of the coal fields. There is great need of money among the miners, and loyalty to the cause of labor is being sacrificed by numbers of them on this account.

Slam, he added, had been treated in a hard manner and British interests had not been safely guarded. There was a serious feeling in England that the action of the Foreign Office had been incompetent. Did the cession of Slamese territory, he asked, mean whole left bank of the Me-Kong River? If so, it was unfortunate, as it would oring France nearer to Burmah than ever before. Measures ought to be taken, Sir Richard said, to limit the French occupation of the territory, an occupation which he supposed would be only temporary. So important did he consider this point that he would suggest that Great Britain help Siam to pay the money indemnity with a view to terminating the French occupation of the district in question.

to pay the money indemnity with a view to terminating the French occupation of the district in question.

The Hon. Geo. N. Uurson (Conservative), member for the South Port division of Lancashire, said he doubted France's intention to execute her pledge to preserve the integrity of Siam. France had acled in a most arbitrary manner from the very outset of the trouble, and had shown scant consideration for her victim. The assurances given by France to England have not been kept.

Mr. Curson concluned by declaring that the foreign office was on trial at the bar of public opinion.

Sir Richard Grey reproached Mr. Curson with trying to embarrass the Government while the negotiations of a most delicate character are pending. The position of affairs, he said, required him to still maintain considerable reserve. He was confident that it would be found when the negotiations shall have been disclosed, that the action of the Foreign office has been as strong as Mr. Curson had desired.

A large sea lion was brought ashore by th

Its bellowings were pitiful to hear, and it tore up the beach for a considerable distance around the spot where it died. The sea lion was a female and was accompanied by a smaller one, which was supposed to be its offspring, which hung about the spot and moaned in a heartrending manner while the mother was in her death throes. After the mother was dead the little one, after crawling near her body by the aid of its flappers and rolling, it worked its way back to the surf and disappeared. The sea lion weighed about 800 pounds, and was the largest one of the many that have come ashore in the last six months. She was probably injured by colliding with some vessel or in battle with some marine inhabitant.

Some days ago a man whose name is not given called at the Mayor's office and stated that the mother of Kate O'Leary was sick, and having two small children to look after, desired that his honor remit the fine imposed on Kate and let her be re-leased so as to assist her in her work. it signed by some of the neighbors, and the mother and he would see what could be done for her.

Nothing more was heard of the case until to-day, when the petition was placed on the desk of Secretary Saunders. It contained the names of ten persons besides that of the mother, Mrs. Murphy, and prominent among them were those of City Attorney James J. Butler and Christ Schawacker.

The record was looked up and the marginal note made by Sergt. McGrew was called to the attention of the Mayor. While Mr. Saunders was absent from his desk a man giving the name of Hickey picked up the petition and walked into the Mayor's office with it. When his turn came he took his seat at the desk and presented the petition.

The woman, a handsome mulatto of about 45 years, was ushered in by the sergeant and given a seat next to the man who gave his name as Hickey.

"Are you the mother of Kate O'Leary?" asked His Honor.

"Yes, sir."

"Is this your signature?"

"Lord, no, sir; I can't read or write."

Here Mayor Waibridge turned a shade or two redder and turning on the man said:

"Did you not say the mother signed this?"

'I was told so."

"And didn't you say that she was too sick to come here and present this petition hersel?"

The woman was also dismissed. She said that only yesterday evening she learned that some persons who had been interested in her daughter were circulating a petition to have her fine remitted, and had been informed also that she requested their signatures.

She accordingly went to the City Hall this morning and told Sergt. McGrew of the affair. He told her to take a seat on the bench and he would take her in to the Mayor as soon as possible. It was while thus waiting that the interested clitzen presented the petition, and she was called in to block the game. As the element of forgery enters into the case it is likely that the Mayor will have it thoroughly investigated.

BARR'S MAIL ROBBED.

Arrest of Two Boys Charged With the

For several weeks past complaints have been received by the Post-office officials from the William Barr Dry Goods Co. that letters containing remittances sent to that company had not been received. Post-office Inspector Dill investigated the case, and shortly after II o'clock this morning made two arrests. The isters delivered by the carrier to William James, a boy 14 years old, who was in the habit of receiving the mail, were counted, and on delivery at the desk it was found that the number was seven short. James was arrested, and admitted to Inspector Dill that he had opened a number of letters, taken out such money and stamps as they contained, and destroyed the checks and postal notes. He stated that another boy named Richard Miller, also employed at Barr's had aided him in disposing of the stamps, but had opened no letters.

The history of this stone is a peculiar one. Ned Spedden was a sailor and picked it up on one of his short land excursions in South America. It is nearly circular in form, haif an inch thick and from three and a half to four inches in diameter. It is very porous, the interatices being filled seemingly with some bright, spackling stuff like fakes, of silver. It will float on the water like a piece of cork, although it has considerable weight. This Mr. Ned Spedden willed it to his son upon his death, the second son being known only to Mr. Witcher as "Colonel." The "Colonel" moved to Oregon some years are and gave the trophy to Mrs. Etvira West, the grandmother of the present owner. Mr. Witcher has owned it for the past nine years.

Some time ago the stone was applied to a bite made in the hand of a young man by a dog which, in a day or two afterward, died from a severe attack of hydrophobie. The young man suffered no ill effects from the bite. Other as seemingly miraculeus applications were made, in each case the person afflicted afterward suffering nothing from hydrophobia.

Mr. Witcher prizes the stone almost beyond price, but says it is for the free use at all times of anyone who may call and need its services.

WALNUT TREES FOR PROFIT.

Shade and Ornamentation, in Addition

Shade and Ornamentation, in Addition Make Them Desirable.

Nany suggestions as to the advisability planting wainut trees for shade, ornames and profit, have been made. There is can tainly much less work attached to a waini orchard, says the Irrigation Age, than to it same number of any other sind of trees. The demand for nuts is not fully supplie from our own land. It is reported that Canfornia furnishes less than one-fifth of the stern wainut buyers, and the crop is unity contracted for at least one year in advancy of production.

An exchange says: "The four-acre wain orchard, twelve years old, owned by a Minney, near howney, Cal., has annual horne a crop during the last they ears of me less than 580. The price he receives wars from 6 to 84 cents. This has brought him on a average 35.25 for each tree, and he is eighty trees to the acre. The total receipter acre amount to the handsome sum of 120. In 180 the crop from 50 trees soid 631,185; the next year he realized $1,185. When we consider that there is so little labor an expense in connection with raising wainstif is a wonder that more people have no gone into the industry.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 2.-While it was still daylight three burglars overpowered and tied two watchmen in the offices of the Chi-cago Newspaper Union, 98 Jefferson street, yesterday evening, then forced open the worth of notes and commercial paper. C. F. Strong President of the company, said ast night that a portion of the stolen paper was negotiable. The burgiars effected an entrance into the office after the employes left at 6:30 o'clock. Soon after Watchman Courtney entered the office when he was attacked by two men, who tied him securely and then resumed work on the safe. An hour and a half later, just as the men had reached the cash box, another watchman, D. B. Driscoil, entered the room. He was treated in the same manner as Courtney. When everything of value had been taken from the safe the men quietly took their departure. Four hours afterward the watchmen succeeded in releasing themselves and notified the police. Courtney received two long gashes, one on the forehead and one on the back of the head, but it is not believed he is seriously injured.

secure victims under the orders issued to them. It is true that they are provided with momey to purchase the necessary intexicating beverage to secure a conviction, but alas, for the lirsty ones, that is as far as they can go, is law is very explicit on the point that no lice officer shall enter a snicon while on try, except in the discharge of his duty, and en then it still more email, under no circumstances, take drink in a saloon while on duty. I whether the Police Board will strain the saw a point or two and wink at the trifling offense of a dutiful officer slaking his thirst when by so doing he captures a gross offener against the law, a robber of the city's revenue and the Excise Commissioner's ices, is a matter which has not yet been passed upon.

UNEXPECTEDLY SUCCESSFUL. The Special Single-Fare Trains From New York to the World's Fair.

New York, Aug. 2.—The success of the special single-fare excursion from New York to the World's Fair has far exceeded the expectations of the railroads. The original schedule was made for one month only, as the arrangement was an experiment and many of the managers had serious doubts that the patronage of the cheap trains would pay their expenses. So popular have these exeursions become, however, that a new schedule is being made up to a new schedule is being made up to go into operation when the old one expires Aug. 19. The regular passenger service does not seem to have suffered at all from the special trains. Since July 2s there have been eight trains a week started. These have carried out of New York an average of 160 passengers and have picked up 250 more before leaving Trunk line territory. The New York Central train on Saturday left the Grand Central Station with 185 passengers. At Niagara Falls there were 432 on board. The Erie's first train took aboard 177 passengers in Jersey Ulty and increased the number 60 700 before leaving Trunk Line territory. The Baltimore & Onlo train had to be divided into two sections to accommodate the large number picked up along the route. The Pennsylvania train on Tuesday started with ninety passengers and consisted of two full sections. The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western carried 200 passengers from Jersey City and picked up as many more. The Lehigh Valley train started with seventy, and had eight cars full when it got to Easton. The Ontario & Western train last Tuesday had 260 at the start and yesterday had 171.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 2.-It has just been ascertained that at a quiet meeting of the Board of Directors of the Pittsburg & West-Board of Directors of the Pittsburg & Western Railroad Co., held in the company's general offices in Allegheny City, fast Monday, Thomas M. CHICAGO, Aug. 2.-Judge Stein of the Superior Court this morning decided that the World's Fair directors and officials who and been directly responsible for closing the gates Sunday, July 28, had violated the in-junction granted in the Clingman petition, and were consequently guilty of contempt. He ordered that Directors Gage, Hutchinson, Henrotin, McNally and Kerfoot should be fined $1,000 each and stand commit-ted to jail until the fine was paid. In the case of Director Victor F. Lawson, the Court held the officer had voted in the belief that the injunction had lapsed and was not intentionally guilty. In view of this mitigat ing circumstance a fine of $100 was imposed. Director-General Davis was held less directly provision regarding payment. The local lovers of usic will very likely be given an opportunit to hear the famous Mormon Tabernacle Chorus of Salt Lake City, which is to compete for the $5,000 prize offerd by the National Association of Welmmen, to the best chorus of all nations. This contest will take place in Chicago at the world's Fair grounds, on Sept. 8.

This morning, Mr. L. B. Clanson and H. G. Whitney, both representatives of Salt Lake City and the chorus, crived in this city and are registered at the buthern Hotel. They have come to St. Louis in order to make arrangenents. If possible, to secure the Exposition Music Hall for the afternoon or night of Sept. 2, for the purpose of giving a grand exhibition of their lamous choristers. he greater part of the day was taken up by lists to the managers of the largest theates and the Exposition management. The latter officials informed, the representatives of the chorus that Music Hall had ben let for the Sunday-school convention, bu arranged for a meeting later in the day with a view of inducing the Sunday-school people to devote an afternoon or an evening tothe Mormon chorus.

The chorus of Mormon is composed, according to the rules had down by the American Association of Whis himen, of 200 voices and twelve instruential and vocal soloists. These 12 artists have been selected from the grand Mormon choir of 500 voices, almost daily heard in the Selebrated Mormon imple, the construction of which was begin by Brigham Young, and which was only completed and opened during the present year.

The choir was organized as a body by Brigham Young about they years ago and every year since then it has been replenished and kept fresh by selections from the best voices to be found in Salt Lake City. souri Roads Patting In Track Scales. Railroad Commissioners Cowghill and Tim Hennessey, accompanied by Chief Grain in pector O'Shea and Daniel Tracy, Hennessey, accompanied by Chief Grain inspector O'Shea and Daniel Tracy, Warehouse Registrar. are calling upon the general managers of all railroads terminaing in St. Louis for the purpose of ascertaining why they have not compiled with the law as enacted by the Thirty-seventh General Assembly requiring all roads to put in track scales. The law went into effect June 21 but a majority of the roads have paid no attention to it, and are not inclined to put in track scales at all. The Commissioners and Messrs. O'Shea and Tracy met quite a number of railroad officials to-day and asked them to show cause why they had not compiled with the law. They further informed the railroad magnates that they were not altogether pleased with the hopper scales used in the elevators, as there have been numerous shortages reported during the past three or four months and that general dissatisfaction prevailed in all quarters as a result. The commissioners urged the railroad officials to put in track scales at once, as the law requires, and in the figure they would see that there would be no more shortages reported. The roads have agreed to put in the scales at the commissioners will execute the reads have agreed to put in the scales at St. Louis and no trouble is apprehended as a result of the delay.

Commissioner Hickman will arrive in the city to-night and the Commissioners will leave in the morning for Williamsville, Mo., to investigate a charge made against the Williamsville, Greenville & Northern by the citizens of Williamsville.

THE FOSTORIA BANK

Charges Mede Against Ex-Secretary of State Foster.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 2 .- A story, which lacks confirmation, appeared in an evening paper here yesterday charging ex-Secretary f the Treasury Foster with gross mismar gement of the funds of his bank at Fostorie which failed a short time ago. According t this publication, Foster and other officials of the bank had largely overdrawn their ac-counts at the time of the collapse, and that in this way the funds of depositors were misappropriated.

Cotton Belt Reducing Expenses. General Superintendent Edson of the Cot ton Belt and President Fordyce had a lengthy conversation this morning concerning the operating expenses of the system, but did not agree an any immediate changes. President Fordyce stated this morning that they had determined to reduce the operating expenses of the road to the lowest possible notch if more men had to be temporarily suspended. "All the roads are curtailing their expenses," said Mr. Fordyce, "and our action in following suit cannot be censured by any one. We desire to protect our employes just as much as possible, but of course we have to look to our own interests as well." on Belt and President Fordyce had

THE WORK CUT OUT

Congress Will Begin Business as Soon as the Message Is Read.

THE DOCUMENT WILL BE SENT IN TUESDAY OR WEDNESDAY.

ther Crisp Inclined to Follow Lines Laid Down by President Cleveland-Repeal of the Sherman Law First in Order-Then Will Open the Battle For and Against Silver.

WARRINGTON, Aug. 2. -The President's mesage to Congress will be sent in Tuesday or Vedsesday next, and it is thought but little time will be wasted in preliminaries, but that both branches of Congress will go at the work in hand, which will be cut out by the message. A caucus of the Democratic members of the House will be held Saturday afternoon or evening and the selection of of-cers of that body agreed upon.

Mr. Crisp will of course be elected Speak. and he will follow the lines laid down by the Administration. There appears to be no doubt about the action of the House on the Sherman law. It will be repealed without compromise. After this is done the battle will come over legislation on the silver question. This is indicated in an interview with Mr. Crisp published here. He declares himself in favor of the repeal of the Sherman act, but says: "I am not prepared to say whether individually I shall favor wiping it out with-out any further thought as to the silver question. The Sherman law is a most in-jurious piece of legislation. When it was passed the predictions as to its effect upon and disheartening to all those whose interests were closely identified with the finances of the country. The practical operation of the law has been even more disastrous than was predicted, and the statute now stands ut a friend to defend it per se. President Oleveland has summoned Congress to take action in the premises, and it is to be hoped no time will be lost in repealing the odious measure. I do not believe that the Sherman law is solely responsible for the depression which prevails throughout the

There is a divergence of opinion as to the coming message from the President, Many Congressmen now here believe that Mr. Cleveland will touch upon nothing outside the lines of direct financial legislation, while others feel certain that revision of the tariff will be recommended as one of 'the means of restoring confidence. The tariff question, they say is so closely allied with the financia they say is so closely allied with the financial issue that the two cannot be divorced by Congress. It is understood that the Committee on Ways and Means will, as soon as it is appointed, begin its preliminary work and take advantage of every opportunity to proceed with the formulation of a tariff bill. The silver discussion will naturally have the right of way, however, and the tariff will be taken up only when the attention of the House is not demanded by the leading issue. Bland of Missouri will of course lead the silver forces when the battle begins in the licuse, and it seems probable now that the leaders of the "sound money" side of the chamber will be Bourke Cockran of New York, the man who led the Hill forlorn hope at Chicago. libel on which the case will be tried. The committee submitted the draft of a libel and it was discussed at the meeting. The original draft was considerably amended as finally approved. The indictment charges him with having been guilty of heresy, first in holding and teaching a view of the Holy Scripture which impugns and discredits them as the supreme and infallible source of religious truth; and, second, a view of God which sets him forth as one who does not smite either by the way of punishment or discipline, who has nothing to do with the judgment or punishment of the wicked. A discussion arose over the relevancy of the charges. Principal Mac Vicar, head of the Montreal Presbyterian College in which Dr. Campbell holds the chair of Biblical Teachings, and Prof. Scremyer, another one of the faculty, the Rev. Dr. Patterson, and other leading divines, supported the charges as revolant. Dr. Mac Vicar was very strong in condemnation of his colleagues. He said the whole question was whether Dr. Campbell's statement could be construed in harmony with the word of God and the standards of the Presbyterian Church. He held that Dr. Campbell's teaching was a manifest departure from the doctrine which he solemnly dromised to teach and delend when he was admitted into the chair he held in the Presbyterian College. Dr. Mac Vicar said he took his stand in favor of properly regulated freedom and the employment of the best scholarship in the treatment of biblical subjects, but such criticism was vastly different from attacking the very essentials and vitality of the Scriptures, as Dr. Campbell had done. He urged chamber will be Bourke Cockran of New York, the man who led the Hill forlorn hope at Chicago.

Cockran's eloquence and the convincing logic of his arguments made him the leader in the great silver debates of the last Congress. His legislative experience then was by no means as great as that of several of his colleagues who aided in leading the movement against the enactment of the Bland bill. He had served in the Fiftieth Congress only and had made but one speech, and that upon a topic foreign to finance. Yet when the battle waxed warm, Cockran stepped to the front with the ease and confidence of a natural leader and commanded the anti-silver forces until the victory was won.

Mr. Bland is not gifted with special oratorical powers. It is more as a parliamentary leader that he will figure in the new Congress. His long years of experience have made bim familiar with all the subterfuges and tricks of parliamentary warfare, and he is not likely to be caught napping. Mr. Bland's identification with silver legislation dates back to the early 70s, but it was not nntil 1877 that he jumped into conspicuous prominence as a radical, uncompromising champion of free colnage. His course on the silver question has been true and consistent.

of this diocese celebrated to-day the twentyfifth anniversary of his elevation to the episcopady of the Catholic Church. The two functions that will make the sliver jubilee memorable were the first mass in the cathedral and the sermon by Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore. Cardinal Gibbons was raised to the episcopate in the same month with Bishop Mullin. They had met before in their Catholic education. The people here wanted to see and hear Cardinal Gibbons.
He came, and he gratified Erie with his eulogy of their Bishop. It is understood here there will be an increase very soon in the number of Archbishops in the country, and that Bishop Mullin and Bishop Foley of Detroit will be two of them. Cardinal Gibbons read the goospel for the day, a portion of St.
Luke, chapter x, appointed by the church for the feast day of St. Alphonsus. This was the text of the Cardinal's sermon and at its close, thrning to Bishop Mullin, he said:
"Allow me, Right Reverend Father, to congratulate you with all my heart on the celebration of the silver jubilee of your Episcopate, to greet you by anticipation on the golden jubilee of your priesthood, which takes place next year; and I beg to unite in me with this congratulation your homored metropolitan and the bishops and clergy and priests who are here to-day. I venture also to include your fellow citizens without regard to faith, for they have not failed to admire you for your civic virtues and moral worth. They regard you as the fearless exponent and vindicator of domestic purity, of social order and public tranquillity.

AYLESWORTH DECLINES.

templated Nominating Him.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 2.—Archbishop Satolii has left for Washington and a local paper publishes a sensational article to the effect that the rebellion of Archbishop Corrisgan of New York, in refusing to reinstate Dr. Burtsell in his original parish, is to be punished. It is stated also that Mgr. Satolii, after consultation with Archbishop Ireland has decided to go to Rome, lay the matter before the Pope and advise the appointment of a coadjutor to assist Archbishop Corrigan in the management of his diocese. Archbishop Ireland would probably be the appointee and the arrangement would virtually mean the removal of Corrigan from control. DESMOINES, IO., Aug. 2.—President Barton O. Aylesworth has written a letter declining the Prohibitionist nomination for Governor on the ground that the death of Chancellor Carpenter and the serious illness of Dean Hobbs throws the entire management of the Drake University on his shoulders. The declination is regarded as extremely important, because the Populist leaders had planned to indorse Aylesworth, which would have made him a formidable candidate.

MR. BRUCK'S TWELVE BOMBS

Not Perbidden by the New Lew.

Henry Bruck, the Republican recently elected to the House of Delegates from the Fifth Ward, yesterday submitted his bill of expanses to Recorder of Voters Carlisle. An item of 15 for "freworks" was specified, and Mr. Carlisle and the successful candidate to City Connections. sent the successful candidate to City Coun-selor Marshall. The latter read Mr. Bruck's statement carefully, noted the matter of fireworks and indorsed the document thus: I hereby certify that the within statement is in doors of law. W. C. MARSHALL, City Counselor.

Interest of the work of the indersement, Mr. Bruck sot his certificate of election and at once qualified for office. Now the question arises: "Is a fireworks display among the forbidden wiles of the office seeker?"

In a loose sense, fireworks, like charity, may cover a multitude of sins, and may digress radically from the field of pyrotechnics. A candidate might set up a keg of beer instead of a keg of red light and fall to see his mistake. But Mr. Bruck merely exploded twelve bombs, so that he uses the term fireworks in a restricted meaning. But the corrupt practices act provides in sec. 3 that pass, wanty or is pass, or previding meat, drink, estertainment or provision to or for any person for the purpose of corruptly influencing that person or any other person, to give or refrain from giving his vote at such election shall be suitive of a misdemeanor, and upen conviction thereof shall be sined $55 for each offense.

To the ordinary mind, fireworks do nothing if they do not entertain, so that the law officers of the city might be expected to bring to terms the presuming candidate who seeks by such means, to catch votes, and be the first man to comply with the law. But Mr. Marshall does not think that fireworks are forbidden either by explicit provision or by the spirit of the corrupt practices act, so that the candidate who in his sworn statement may misconstructure the term "fireworks," may ease his conscience with a private admission of his ignorance. and the results had already been disastrous.

conscience with a private admission of his ignorance.

'No,' said the City Counselor to-day, 'I do not think that fireworks falls under the head of 'entertainment,' mentioned in the third section of the corrupt practices act. 'Meat, drink, entertainment or provision' are the words used, and I take entertainment to mean something akin'to meat, drink or provision.' Fireworks do not please or influence any one person, but delight a crowd and have a general rather than an individual effect. Besides they are used to gather, not to hold or sway voters, a point which I urged in the defense of a suit against the city for damages sustained at a political mass-meeting.'

criticism was vastly different from attacking the very essentials and vitality of the Scriptures, as Dr. Campbell had done. He urged the presbytery to take promot action; as if Dr. Campbell's action was allowed to pass without strong condemnation irreparable injury might be done to the church. He regretted to have to move against one who had been his colleague for twenty years, but his duty to God, the trath and the church came first. Several members of the Presbytery attempted to defend Prof. Campbell; they were in a hopeless minority, and finally the charges were decided to be relevant by an overwhelming vote. It was decided to summon Dr. Campbell to answer to the charges before the Presbytery at a meeting to be held Sept. 2. There is little doubt Prof. Campbell will be condemned by the Presbytery. An appeal will then be taken to the General Assembly, and if that body also condemns him, the only course open to him will be to resign the professorship and leave the church.

At the last meeting of the Presbytery scompelled to pass these immorni resorts were frequently induced to become regular habitues, when if they had not been so exposed to temptation nothing of the kind would have occurred. The inducements to excessive drinking were also to be greatly deplored. Within the section referred to no less than fifty-nine saloons existed, for the most part of a very low grade. When the new Union Depot should be occupied the condition of affairs would be much worse, as persons going to and returning from the trains would be compelled to pass through the very center of this district. An additional reason for removal was the fact that a most unfavorable impression of the city would be given to strangers if on their first entrance they should be brought into contact with vice.

Another, and a very strong argument advanced by Mr. Snyder, was the fact that the Loretto Academy, a school for young girls, was located in the neighborhood of the houses of ill-fame. Mr. Snyder stated that he had a conference with the Mother Superior, and that she had thanked him most warmly for the interest that he was taking in the matter. She stated that the girls attending the academy were constantly subject to insuit, and were obliged to be continually on their guard, solely because of the nature of the surroundings.

Another great Objection ANOTHER HERESY TRIAL. Prof. John Campbell's Case Before the Montreal Presbytery. IONTREAL, Aug. 2.-The case of Prof. John Campbell of the Montreal Presbyteria Church, who is charged with heresy on account of certain statements made regarding mmoral lives.

Another objection to the present location of he houses in question was, Mr. Snyder said, to be found in the fact that residents of the West End could not drive to the theaters without passing through one part or another of the infected district unless they chose to follow the cable tracks. Mr. Snyder states that he was perfectly aware that the evil could not be entirely suppressed. For this reason he had been a warm advocate of the social evil law, and regarded its removal from the statute books as a public calamity, but even as matters stood some regulation could be enforced, and the immoral resorts could be removed from a part of the city where their influence was peculiarly deleterious. The neighborhood of Gay street was suggested as possibly the best to which removal could be quietly enforced.

The members of the board listened to Mr. Snyder with attention, but action on the petition was postponed. without passing through one part or another Agriculture Favored by Warmth, Sunshine and Rain.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Aug. 2.—Very warm weather, plenty of sunshine and light but well distributed showers characterized the week and favored agricultural interests gendelly and excessive temperatures caused many reports of loss of stock and human life. The precipitation was timely and well distributed, but was of such character as to afford little or no-relief. It was confined strictly to local thunderstorms and was very light except in a few of the west central counties and small areas in other widely separated counties. Nothing is reported as suffering seriously yet, but more rain is needed by and would be most beneficial to everythists, except perhaps, in the few localities where heavy showers fell recently. The sunshine, while not so continuous as last week, was very demoralizing and was abundant, possibly excessive, considering the general deficiency in precipitation. Little change can be noted in the reports of this week as compared with those of last. Wheat threshing continues with poor and discouraging results, and though ploughing for this crop is in progress in many southern counties the general report seems to indicate that the acreage of this year will be considerably smaller than that of last. The oat harvest is nearing completion, and a marked retraction of the previous forecast of a heavy crop is an unfavorable feature that grows more pronounced, weekly. This fact seems to be due mainly to rust, which has taken whole fields and in many countries numerous adjoining farms, but what of the crop remains untouched is pronounced excellent in quality. As the price of this product remains very low, the crop is evidently ample for all purposes. Cutting and curing the hay crop also developed a shortage in that product that was not looked for and which seems at present hard to acrount for, but 75 to 80 per cent of a full crop seems to be the general opinion of best informed parties. Corn still continues to improve under the influence of hot days, cool nights and light, but timely showers, and the outlook for this important crop has not been equaled in many years. Considerable damage to the protest of parting in the fruit line and are reported as in good condition, with t deg. above the normal over the entire State

A Rise in Price and a Bullish Feeling Manifested.

Among wheat dealers on 'Change to-day the feeling was better than it has been for some time past. Before the call there was a decided feeling of anxiety, due principally to decided feeling of anxiety, due principally to news of further failures among Chicago provision and grain dealers. But the strong advance in the price of stocks in New York had a very steadying influence, and the price of cash wheat rose to kake. The buying demand was strong, specially from millers of Northeastern Missouri and Southern Illinois, while some wheat was taken for export. The feeling has not for many days been so builtsh as it was 10-day.

Employment Agency. About a dozen unemployed men, headed by John Williams, a grocery clerk of Kansas City, filed into Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Estep's office this morning to register a complaint against a labor agency by whom lams acted as spokesman for the party. He said that the firm of Jones & Sheetz, 9 North Sixth street, had written him to Kansas City, stating that they had a number of vacancies which would suit him. He came to the city and paid the $1 "office fee" demanded. Since he claims that they have kept him running around the city alter vacancies advertised in the newspapers and over which they had no control. Every position he went after had been filled before he arrived. The other men each told a similar story. Mr. Estep told them to ascertain the full names of Jones & Sheetz, when he promised to issue a warrant. These men had barely left the office when James Wilson entered with a similar tale of woe. He claimed that he had paid $1 to the United States Railroad Labor Agency, Sixth and Lucas avenue, it consideration of which he was promised a position at $25 a month and his board. He paid the money and in return received a letter addressed to Wm. Lamb at De Hodiamond Station asking him to give bearer work. He took the letter there and was informed that there were no vacancies. Jones was told to demand his money back, and if he failed to get it Mr. Estep promised to issue a warrant.

Mr. E. L. Sheetz of the Feople's Employment Co, was seen and asked for his version of the situation in regard to the application for a warrant made by John Williams and others, in which Williams claimed he had been led by false pretenses to pay a dollar to get a job he did not get.

Mr. Sheetz said: "I have his contract here on file in the office by which he agrees to pay us $1 for furnishing him all the information we have in regard to positions desired," Mr. Sheetz produced the contract signed by williams and said: "He is the only Kansas City man we have, and because them; we simply agree to do all we can in the way of helping them to the positions desired," Mr. Sheetz produced the contract signed by williams and said: "He is the only Kansas City man we have, and because them he has been cheated by us and makes a combination with them to get out a warrant. E. P. Lyles, alias F. E. Gibbs, who was ar rested yesterday on suspicion of having beer one of the men who jammed a baggage truck in between the platform and the track at Old Orchard Station yesterday is still in jail at Clayton. He was rather short of clothes when brought into fail. Sheriff Garrett fitted him out in a jail suit of blue overalls and a blue cotton shirt. He needs a shave very badly and looks pretty tough. When questioned he denied all complicity in the affair and said that he went to the Old Orchard Station for the perpose of having the operators there fix him for a lift into town on the next freight, and also try to borrow a clean shirt to take him into the city with a passable appearance.

He went on to say that he was a telegraph operator by profession, and had worked in Memphis, Spokane, Denver and other places. When asked why he had been blacklisted in Memphis he said it was for drinking and gambling. He said his right name was E. P. Iyles, but that he had worked out West under the name of F. E. Gibbs. The man Lee Robinson, who was arrested at the same time that he was, he says came from Denver with him on this trip and had no more to do with the affair than he himself had. He had never been to St. Louis before and did not know anyone on the Frisco road that he should have a grudge against.

Robinson was released last night by the local police.

DEATH OF GEN. INNES. Succumbed to Pneumonia at Grand Rapids-Historical Sketch. GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 2 .- Gen. Wm. P. Innes died at his residence here this morning of pneumonia. Gen. Innes was born in New York 67 years ago. When 16 years old he entered the employ of the Eric Railrod as civil engineer. In 1853 he came to Michi gan for the Grand Trunk, and under his supervision the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee road was completed to Grand Haven. He then went to the Grand Rapids & Indiana road and made the preliminary surveys of that line from this city to Mackinaw, through what was then an unbroken wilderness. When the war broke out be raised the famous regiment of Michigan engineers and mechanics and went to the front at its head as Colonel. The regiment rendered invaluable aid building and repairing bridges. At the close of the war Col. Innes was given the close of the war Col. Innes was given the brevet rank of Brigadier-General. He spent three years following the war railroading in the South, acting as Receiver of another and later was President and General Manager of the Nashville & Tennessee. In 1885 failing health compelled him to quit railroading and he came to this city to live. He was a prominent Mason, and for years was Secretary of the Grand Lodge and Grand Recorder of the Grand Commandery.

POISONOUS FRUIT.

The limb of a tree in Gaston, S. C., bore heavy load of fruit the other day. From it hung the bodies of three lynched negroes. These three negroes were killed by a mot without process of law. They were denied the privilege of counsel and the right of trial by jury in a court of law. They were mutilated and scourged to glut the vengeance of their executioners. In their law on those fireworks. treatment the laws of the State were violated and the dearest rights which mankind has wrung through bitter conflict from the hands of tyranny were trampled under foot. There is no guarantee of safety, liberty or justice without these laws and rights.

The fruit which this South Carolina tree bore is fatal poison to the organization of civilized society. The forces which bring it forth nourish anarchy and injustice. They sap the roots of law and liberty. Every crop of that sort weakens the safe-guards of life and the rights that make life worth living.

It is said that the sentiment of citizens indorses the killing of these negroes because of the vileness of their crime. But falsehoods of private malice or business no crime, however vile, can inflict the injury upon the State that this trampling upon laws and rights inflicts. If the senti-

WE CAN ALL BE PROSPEROUS.

Those who think below the surface of events cannot but wonder at the distress prevailing in all parts of the United States. From all quarters come reports of the discharge of workingmen, the suspension of production and the consequent impoverishment of hitherto prosperous people who find themselves unable to supply their families with the necessaries of life. It is wonderful, because in the nature of things we expect all to have plenty in a country whose resources are boundless and which have scarcely been tapped.

The United States, with an area of 8,600,000 square miles, or six times that of France, Germany and Austo-Hungary, find great difficulty in supporting a population of less than half that of those three countries. Our natural riches are so great that the disparity is multiplied many fold, and with every fresh fact brought to light the wonder grows. Our people are proverbially the most energetic, skilful and resourceful on earth, but their faculties do not avail to save them from periodical spells of depression which reduce the wealthy to poverty and the poor to pauperism. We seem to be immersed in the ake which tormented Tantalus.

Vices in the currency do not account for ation which loads production with unnecessary burdens, hinders exchange and distribution by a variety of vexatious and costly restrictions and shuts up trade in a closed market monopolized by a favored few. In addition to these direct effects of an unwise policy is the privilege of taxation granted directly and indirectly to private corporations, whereby a still greater burden is imposed, which is fast impoverishing the people in all parts of the country and making individual enterprise impossible. It is not wise to depend only upon the repeal of the Sherman law to restore business to a safe basis of confidence. The preciated by contractors. CAMPAIGN FIREWORKS.

Candidate Bruck has complied with the new corrupt practices act in filing a statement of his receipts and expenditures in his campaign for a seat in the House of Delegates from the Fifth Ward. He has kept well within the limit of expenditures fixed by the law and all items of expenditure appear innocent, except one-$5 for fireworks.

Sec. 3 of the corrupt practices act pro

Any candidate for public office . who, within sixty days prior to an election whereat the incumbent for the office so sought by him is chosen, corruptly, by himself or by any other person, directly or indirectly gives, provides or pays, wholly or part, the expense of giving or providing any or for any person for the purpose of corruptly influencing that person or any other per-son to give or refrain from giving his vote at such election shall be guilty of a misde-meanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined $25 for each offense.

Does not a display of fireworks constitute entertainment? There can be no question of it. And why should Candidate Bruck have expended his money, or rather his friends' money-for all of Mr. Bruck's campaign fund was provided by patriotic friends-to provide fireworks if it was not for the purpose of influencing voters by firing the popular heart, arousing the popular enthusiasm and awakening in the popular mind a grateful appreciation of his generosity through the sizzboom-ah of the delectable rocket, flowerpot or Roman candle?

But Candidate Bruck gives a list of friends, headed by Col. Cold Deal Comfort, who contributed all the money for his campaign expenses. Col. Comfort and his public-spirited associates who put up to secure the city the benefit of Mr. Bruck's legislative talents, share in the violation of law embodied in the provision of a fireworks display for the voters. The law makes it a felony to "advance, pay or cause to be paid any money to or for the use of any other person'' to corruptly influence voters.

If the candidate can beguile the voter with fireworks why not with firewater or any other form of entertainment? If Col. Comfort can pay a large part of the expenses of candidates for the House of Delegates with impunity what chance is there tortured to exact confessions. They were for citizens to derive any benefits from Municipal legislation? Let us have the

THE PROPLA'S FORUM.

[No matter written an bah sides of sheet can ap Mr. Matthews Bad Guess.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I see that Rev. Matthiws states that there re 10,000 fallen womenin the city. Now I do not know where Mr. Matthews gets his statement means, and by so doing show its absurdity.
The city of St. Louis has in round numbers say 600,000 people. Adopting the census as a guide, we find the ratio of females to males say 600,000 people. Acopting the census as a guide, we find the rato of females to males to be as 170 to 180, or that there are about 290,000 females of all ages, classes and description in the city. A fair estimate of the number of these between the ages of 18 and 40 years (which comprises the extremes of the life of an abandoned woman) would be as one in three (a very liberal limit) of the total, which would give us say 95,000 women from which this 10,000 abandoned women are to be drawn. This would make that class to comprise more than one-tenth of the entire female population between 18 and 40 years old, which is absurd.

The fact is that some nen are entirely too reckless in the use of figures. They sling in the 'ten thousands' without stopping to reflect on the vast number of individuals represented by the expression. A few months ago a physician of this city, in conversation with a reporter on one of the morning papers, made the assertion, which was duly printed, that 'there are 20,000 women in St. Louis who are opium and cocaine habitues, and most of them belong to the well-to-do class.'' This assertion passed utchallenged, simply because nobody in St. Louis believed it for a moment, but it got abroad and has been a current item in Europeas journals for some months past. I have tried to correct the statement, and several English journals have republished my refutation of the senseless lie, but the mischief is done. French and German medical, pharmaceutical and demographic journals have already copied the statement, and st. Lauis stands branded by one of her own physicians as one big opium joint.

Rev. Matthews' object is a good one, and I wish him all the success in the world, but do

In answer to his inquiry I would state as a taxpayer that he is inquiry I would state as a taxpayer that he is not the only one who is suffering by the negligence of the Board of Health or Mr. Butler. But if Mr. Citizen will do as I do, and the neighbors, i. e., give the man driving the cart 5 or 10 cents every time be comes around, or 15 cents when some paper or pieces of chip basket is found in the barrel, he won't have any trouble or bad odor in froat of his door, for the darkies will be around three times a week for their tips. This is the only remedy I know of. Reporting the matter to the Board of health is useless.

Mimic Naval Warfare Between the Red and Bine Foundrons of the British Navy in the Irish Sea-Approaching Decision in the Behring Sea Case-Foreign Affairs.

LONDON, Aug. 2 .- Sir Edward Gray, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, announced in the House of Commons to day that the French blockade of Siamese ports was raised to-day. This seems to end the incidents so far as fears of some overt act by the French fleet is concerned.

The Daily News says in an editorial this morning that "it would be pedantry and folly to deny our relations with France have been severely strained. France's extremely high-handed procedure, for which there is about as much justi-fication as there was for the partition of Poland cannot be regarded without concern by Great Britain. Much credit for the fortunate ending is due to the diplomacy of Lord Duf-erin, while Lord Roseberry has certainly justified the confidence of the country.'

REVOLUTIONISTS IN SANTA FE. BUENOS ATRES, Aug. 2.-In the Province o Santa Fe the revolution against Gov. Caffer-ata is rapidly growing. They have seized Santa Fe the revolution against Gov. Cafferata is rapidly growing. They have seized many towns. A large body of revolutionary troops, largely composed of colonists from Europe, is marching toward the city of Santa Fe, which is the capital of the Province. Notice has been sent Gov. Cafferata that unless he surrenders the city by daybreak Wednesday and agrees to give up control of the province a bombardment will be opened. It is not doubted that the Revolutionists could readily take the city by storm. The insurgents are impeding railroad traffic. The city of Rosario, the largest in the province of Santa Fe, is already in the hands of the revolutionary forces. It is reported that 160 persons were killed and wounded during the fighting with the Insurgents and the police of that city. Bahig Blanca, on Bahia Blanca Bay, at the extreme southern point of the Province of Buenos Ayres, was captured yesterday by the revolutionists. The police made a short resistance but were forced to surrender. This gives the revolutionists almost complete control of the Great Southern Railroad, which runs from Buenos Ayres City to Bahia Blanca. USELESS GUNBOATS. London, Aug. 2 .- The mimic warfare be tween the red and the blue fleets of the British navy is being carried on in the Irish sea. Combats between sections of the fleets are of daily occurrence, but nothing specially noteworthy has happened. A reporter of the Standard, who is on board the Royal Sovereign, flagship of the Channel Squadron, says the maneuvers are clearly showing the present type of gunboats are virtually useless as torpedo boat catchers, or as scouts. They must be faster and must be provided with a more effective signal staff, Many of the signal officers aboard of them are absolutely unable to take a semaphore signal correctly. In fact, there is great deficiency in the signal staff all round. On the other hand, the reporter is high in his praise of the second-class cruisers taking part in the maneuvers. The gunboats shelldrake and Salamander, attached to the Red Squadron, have gone to Devonport for repairs, each having leaky tubes and defective bottoms. are of daily occurrence, but nothing specially

HOME AND HAVE AN ADVENTURE.

Teddy Brinser and Nick Talbot considered themselves two deeply injured lads. Through the long vacation days they worked in the field, and when evening came they met be bot's orchard, and exchanged grievances and sympathy. One half holiday a week was all their fathers allowed them for fishing and base ball. They missed the circus that came that way in July, and all cause the hay had to be made and taken in while the weather was fine. But the climax of this reign of tyranny and oppression was reached one morning when Mr. Brinser found both lads hidden in a shady fence corner, reading tattered copy of "Robinson Crusoe."

a tattered copy of "Robinson Crusce." The angry farmer appropriated the book, drove Nick back to his own side of the fence, and cuffed Teddy severely as he marched him on to resume his distasteful task of hosing corn. That evening the boys held an indignation meeting, and decided to run away.

"We were not born to be slaves," said Teddy, "and I won't stand it any longer. Let's live on an island in Klester's Swamp, like Robinson Crusce and his man Friday did. We can shoot birds and rabbits and catch plenty of fish; and no one will think of looking for us there. Won't it be grand?" "Scrumptious!" assented Nick. "No more "Scrumptious!" assented Nick. Just when they felt sure they had lost their way a welcome flash of lightning revealed a rocky ledge just ahead. An instant later they stood under its jutting crest, screened from the wind and Suddenly a rustling was heard in the busines, and as the startled lads riveted their eyes on the spot a man strode into the fire-light. The visitor was an evil-looking tramp. His clothes were soiled and tattered. His hair and beard were matted and unkempt.

The tribulation of the purpose of the coast, his coming being for the purpose of bringing suit to recover his share in his father; estate. bringing suit to recover his share in his father's estate. The trial of his suit promises to be full of romance and sensation. Young Jacob Wilson charges that his wife entered into a conspiracy with her friends to deprive him of "froperty valued at about 60,000. This being successfully done, she trumped up sufficient evidence to obtain a divorce, and while the sait was pending had him "shanghaled," while intoxicated and taken aboard a ship bound for Australia. There he landed without a penny in 1880. Finelly he drifted to the Pacific Coast, where he found a friend to help him to recover his dustrights. It is probable that col. Robert 6. Ingersoil will be retained to prosecute the young man's suit in this city.

LOST TO THE CITY.

Revenue Which was Not Collected—Collector Zicgenbein's Prophecy.

Another instance of the seculiar manner in which Carr Ziegenbein conducts his office has some to light in the case of Charles T. Pauly, who conducts a salcon at 1785 Gravois avenue. Fauly has been one of the salcon men whose license was regularly looked after by the Green Tree Brawery whose beer of course be sold. Last Januar to the contised by Collector Zeigenbrant and the license for the ensuing six months was due and unpaid. He, in turn, notified the brewery. In February he was spain notified, and he went to the brewery officials to ask them what they intended to do about if. He was assured that it would be attended to and he was not further molested.

In all these cases it appears the brewery called of him the money for his past six months license. Upon asking to see the license he was shown one taken out in his name for three months only, from Abrill 6 to July 3, 1853. Naturally he refused to pay for more than three months, and taking the license to Mr. Ziegenbein's office asked where was the one for the other three months. He obtained no satisfaction, and now wonders why the Green Tree Brewery wanted him to pay for six months.

A Post-Disparch reporter called on the Collector this morning and asked him if the city had not lost the money due for the first three months' license.

"Oh, I could'nt tell you anything about that," said Mr. Ziegenbein's office the said of Assissi, Italy, which the Benedictines gave to St. Francis of Padua in the twelfth pooks."

"Oh, yes, I remember now. Well, the whole thing is that fellow has fallen out with his brewery and wants to make a racket. There is nothing in his case and I wouldn't take the trouble to investigate it. Let him and the brewery fight it out. I am satisfied with the amount of revenue I have turned over to the city and hope Col. Bell may improve on it, but we shall see. I will tell you one thing, though," concluded the Collector, with a far-away, prophetic look in his eyes, "there will be many an unlicensed salcon running in this city when I am dead and gone."

of Mr. A. C. Good of Kirkwood. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Ellen Sheetz Hough, the daughter of Rev. F. B. Sheetz, rector of the Episcopal Church at Kirkwood, and an inmate of the rectory.

The ceremony will take place in Grace Episcopal Church in the presence of the friends of the bride and groom and their families, Rev. F. B. Sheetz officiating.

The bride will be gowned in a simple but elegant robe of pure white French organdie, made with severe simplicity, her illusion veil caught to her hair with pearl pins and falling to the hem of her gown. She will carry a bouquet of white bride's roses.

There will be three bridemaids, Miss Henrietta Hough, a sister of the bride; Miss Jessie Good, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Lily Bernard of St. Louis.

The groomsmen will be Mr. Loselle Tracey, Mr. Wm. E. Hough, a cousin of the bride, and Mr. A. Rereley.

The bridemaids will all be gowned alike in pretty, girlish costumes of white Swiss musilin, made with full empire skirts trimmed with narrow ruffles, and the round waists made with deep shoulder frills of the same material, the large, puffed sleeves reaching just below the elbow.

The large bouquets of pale pink La France roses carried by the bridemaids will constitute the only bit of color about the bridal decorations, which will otherwise conform to the old fashion, which considered white the only garb suitable for a young girl and her maids when appearing for the first time before the nuptial altar. There will be no

Mr. Wm. H. Graham, the plumber, who Plumbing Thomas Hennessey, last Friday takes exceptions to the manner in which he says Hennessey is attempting to answer the charges.

"In his interview published in last Saturday's Posr-Disparch," said Mr. Graham, "he attempted to evade the issues in the case by saying that I lost bets on having him removed and that to run ventilating pipes above the tops of roofs would mar the architectural beauty of buildings and all such rot as that. Now, Mr. Hennessey does not have to pay my bets, nor does he have to protect the architectural beauty of buildings. There are certain ordinances which prescribe his duties, and as a public official I say he has to comply with their provisions, and if he does not then the Board of Public Improvements must put some one in his place who will. The former charges I preferred against him were sustained, and yet he was not removed. The present charges will also be sustained, as there is no doubt about their being conclusively proved. He talks about my being a Republican office worker and 'dead siter his scalp.' The first is false, and he knows it, and the latter is true, and he also knows that. I am after his scalp, and I am going to get it if he don't do his duty. As a citizen, a tax-payer and a plumber I have a right to demand of the Board of Fublic Improvements that they compel Mr. Heanessey to abide by the city ordinances in discharging his duties. It is not just to the community that he is retained in office and I will push my charges to the bitter end."

Mr. Graham's charges have been reported to the Communitee on Flumbing of the Board of Fublic Improvements, and ties not probable they will be reported on for some little time.

From year to year the faithful who were anxious to obtain the benefits of the indulgence have made the journey to the Monks' Church in South St. Louis. The preliminary step was to go to confession and receive holy communion at their own church, which they did either to day or yesterday. The next step was to visit St. Anthony's Church three times. By all the street car lines which run to the extreme south end of the city the pilgrims hastened to the shrine. They entered the church, recited five times the Lord's Prayer and the Angelic salutation, or, instead, said the beads once, and prayed for the intentions of the church. They then left the church for a few minutes, and returning, rehearsed the same prayers. at a Gospel Meeting. New York, Aug. 2.—Hair clipping is a thriving industry in New York. Scarcely a day passes that a case is not reported to the police. Sunday evening Nellie McDonald, a 19-year-old girl, stopped at Eighth avenue and Thirtieth street, where Richard J. Owen and the Plymouth Brethren were conducting a large open-air gospel meeting. When she turned to go she was conscious of a cool sen-sation on the right side of her head. Putting her hand up she found that one of the two braids of her hair was missing. Then she remembered having heard a clicking sound a moment before, and feels sure that it was made by the shears which cut her hair. She was too startled to note who stood on her right side. was too startled to note who stood on her right side. The police feel sure that the man who clipped Miss McDonald's braid is the same individual who, on the evening of July 4, clipped Miss Annie O'Nell's blonde tresses at Eighth avenue and Forty-eighth street.

It was reported in one of this morning's papers that yesterday afternoon an un known man went into the Mississippi River, known man went into the Mississippi River, near the mouth of the River des Peres to bathe and was drowned. A parcel of hand bills and a neat suit of clothing, supposed to have been the property of the unknown, were found on the bank. In the coat pocket a letter addressed to H. C. Townsend, sixth and Locust streets, was found. The supposition is that the man had been distributing the hand bills. The police of Carondelet know nothing of the case, the property not having been turned over to them. Mr. H. C. Townsend of the Missouri Pacific, to whom it is supposed the letter is addressed, knows nothing about the man, and does not remember having read and returned a letter of recommendation to any person of late. The Carondelet police are making an investigation of the affair.

He says that as soon as he has solved it. He says that as soon as he has solved it. He says that as soon as he heles an application for a patent he which he hopes will revolutiosize the mechanical world. At present he is endeavoring to interest capitalists in his scheme.

Mr. Lange, when seen yesterday, was inclined to be reticent concerning the construction of his wonderful invention.

"What is the principle of your contrivance, Mr. Lange?"

The inventor imiled a knowing smile and answered: "That is a question which I am not prepared to answer at present. I don't intend to lose the fruit of my labors like other inventors have, by allowing the principle I have evolved to be advertised by the press."

"Have you ever tested the practicabilities of your scheme, or have you merely had it running in your bead?"

"I merely have it in my head, but I know it will work; it is sure to work. The matter is very simple, once you have discovered the way to solve it. I tcan be proved easily by mathematics," and Mr. Lange began to farure, but suddenly recollecting that he might betray his scheme he desisted and destroyed the paper. "Before I came here from Terre Haute," he continued, "I made a model. I had it all put together except two wheels, but I saw that it would work, and broke it up for fear that it might be discovered. What I want now is slife to make a first class machine to put on exhibition. The power to be obtained is simply wonderful and there is a mint of money in it. I don't think I will have much trouble in interesting capitalists in it."

methods of breeding, training, feeding and improving horses. He intends to go thoroughly into the horse question while in this country and take back to Germany every improvement that can possibly be of any use in the royal stables.

Speaking of his visit to this country he said: "I have been sent here to make a careful study of every kind of horse raised here, beginning with the thoroughbred and going down to your broncho, used by the cowboys on the plains. We, in Germany need horses for the army, and every other consideration is put aside for the sake of getting good mounts for our cavalry. You know we could not exist without a good cavairy, as we have enemies, the French and Russians, and in order to have the cavairy service of the best, it is of paramount importance the horses be of the best. No country needs good moants for its cavairy as bad as Germany, for the very land itself is not fitted for producing good animals. Germany's soil is too sandy, its climate is poor for breeding horses and there is no lime except in East Prussia, and there we have only four months of pasture, the winter is so long. Prussia is as good as England or America for horses, with the exception of the cold. We have not the best thoroughbreds, not near as good as England and this country, nor have we the best thortters, but we have the best half breeds in the world. The half breed is used forthe cavairy and no country has any that caneven be compared to our,"

Awful Experiences of a Sunstruck

LEFT IN A HARVEST FIELD WITHOUT POOD OR WATER.

Name of Officer Friedlander of Belle-

John Lynch, a laborer, who had been har vesting in this county several weeks, was brought here yesterday from Centerville Station Township and placed in the County Hospital. He had been sunstruck while at work in an out-of-the-way place, and had lain five days in an open field without food or water. When his condition was discovered he was almost famished, and his hands and face were mosquito-bitten so he looked liked a small-pox patient. When he was placed in the hospital the physicians there supposed that he was afflicted with that disease, but the mistake was soon discovered. The man will probably die.

Fred Casper, aged 14, son of Frank Casper, died yesterday. The funeral occurred at Green Mount Cemetery to-day.

A. B. Beedle of East St. Louis while in Belleville yesterday was overcome by the heat.

George Goetz, a Belleville man, came bette today on an Air Line train, and alighting at the Relay Depot asked the officer there, Patrolman Healey, to arrest John Henning and John McCuon, who were on the same train. He stated that one of the men had a watch which was stolen from his brother, John Goetz, in Belleville last Saturday night. Officer Healey arrested the men and took them to the police station, where they showed the watch and told a strange story to account for their possession of it. Henning, who had the watch, claimed to have bought it from a Belleville police officer, Doughs Friedlander, for 52.50, and McCuon corroborated his story. Goetz also told a story that was strange, to say the least. He said he was at the Air Line Depot in Belleville this morning, when he saw Henning take the watch from his pocket, and recognized it as his brother's time-piece. He requested Officer Friedlander, who was about the depot, to arrest the man. Officer Friedlander, Goetz claimed, refused to make the arrest without a warrant, so he boarded the same train they did and came here with them. The police were not inclined to credit either story, especially as the integrity of a Belleville officer was impugated, but Chief Waish feit that it was his duty to report the case to Chief Williams of Belleville, and he mailed to the latter copies of all the statements, with the request that the matter be fully investigated. Meanwhile the men under arrest will be held to await developments. The word of the cases. The statements are not make known is any of the cases. More Failures on Change Result From Yesterday's Big Collapses.

CHICAGO TRADERS.

D. EGGLESTON, SOS & CO. UNEX-PECTEDLY GO DOWN.

Been Long Established and Are Well Known-General Business Troubles Throughout the Country.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Three more failures were announced on the Board of Trade at the opening of business to-day as a result of the collapsed pork and lard deal of John Cudahy, and five other houses went down. Just before the session began Secretary Stone came on the floor and an-naunced that George G. Parker & Co. and Thomas Greig had instructed him to say that all their trades were to be closed out. The announcements did not create any more excitement than the condition of the pork jus-tified, as it had been expected as a result of the string of failures that a few more would necessarily follow to wind up the nurry. A few minutes after trading had commenced Secre-tary Stone came in with the almost expected announcement that C. D. Eggleston, Son & Co. had failed. The September pork market was affected at first slightly, but rallied, and the general opinion is that there will be no

Greig is small, but the other commission houses had been long established. George G. Parker does not know exactly how he G. Parker does not know exactly now he stands, but thinks he is even with the market. No definite statement can be made by "Sandy" Ergleston, as he is known. It is said he has gone to pieces financially. As a special partner of C. J. Kershaw in the Harper wheat deal he lost a round million dollars. He was known to be carrying a big line of lard for the Cudahy-Fairbank comafgreed this morning to William Schwabacher. Assets are scheduled at $500,000, but liabilities are not estimated. The failure is one re of yesterday's Board of Trade troubles Adam Smith & Co., wholesale liquor deal assigned this morning. Assets are duled at $150,000, and liabilities at Rise,000.

The house of D. Eggleston, Son & Co. is in the hands of a receiver who, when asked if he could make some approximate statement of the firm's affairs said: "I have nothing whatever to say to the press at this time." Neither Mr. Eggleston nor his son were in the office. They had large real estate interests as members of the firm of Eggleston, Mallette & Brownell, which owned a thriving suburban tract of land and houses known as Eggleston, just south of Englewood. Eggleston's friends say he could have retired a year ago with a fortune of $1,000,000, but he would not profit by his $1,000,000 experience in the Harper wheat corner of six years ago.

perience in the Harper wheat corner of six years ago.

No more failures were announced and the realization that all the firms which had been talked about as near the danger point had successfully weathered the storm and passed through the clearing house resulted in restoration of confidence and security in the market. A repetition of yesterday's panic was evidently expected by the public, as both the private and public galleries were jammed with people, mostly World's Fair visitors. Secretary Stone of the Board of Trade said this afternoon: "I think these failures to-day will end the trouble. None of them seemed to create surprise or affect the market much. They were expected as a result of the Collapsed deal in pork."

A feature of the provision market was the big buying of pork, lard and ribs by P. D. Armour both openly through his own brokers and by others for his account.

The bulk of the buying for the first hour was done for the big packers, and after that the market became quiet and steady. Armour's purchases were to cover short sales.

Nothing definite can yet be given with re-

Sales.

Nothing definite can yet be given with regard to the extent of the failures yesterday, though close estimates are being made this afternoon. The liabilities of the Cudaly-Fairbank-Wright combination, as represented by closed jout trades on 'Change, though close estimates are being made this afternoon. The liabilities of the Cudally Fairbank Wright combination, as represented by closed jout trades on Change, are estimated at $1,000,000 to $1,500.000 over and above the margin deposits. How that is going to be divided up it is impossible to ascertain. It is taken for granted, however, that "Charley" Wright put up every dollar he could raise, and that he cannot contribute much, if any more, to swell the sum total of the assets of the clique. As for Cudahy and Fairbank, it is known that they went around to several banks Monday and tried to borrow $40,000 on real estate and other slow assets appraised at $4,800,000, Fairbank's interest being $2,000,000 and Cudahy's $2,600,000. They could not get the desired assistance, the banks not caring to have such a large sum tied up for an indefinite period of time in real estate collateral. The fact, however, that the leading principals in the clique were able to make such a splendid showing produced a very favorable impression on 'Change to-day and the opinion prevails in the provision pit that if they are given a little time they will be able to work out of their embarrassments and have handsome fortunes left. John Cudahy could not be seen to-day. Callers were referred to Lawyer Levy Mayer. Mr. Mayer said: "Until hir. Cudahy's books are balanced and statements exchanged with those through whom he was operating it is impossible to state what he cowes. His assets are diversited and extensive, consisting of real estate and securities. The banks with which he dealt, I am assured, are even more than amply secured. His unsecured liabilities are almost entirely confined to the Hoard of Trade. His accounts with Mr. Fairbank are as yet unadjusted."

The Cudahy Packing Co. is not involved in the fullure of John Cudahy, and it is given out as one of the trade secrets that he sacrificed his interests in the concern, and also in the Cudahy are announced as the principal owner of the minuse the expression of the day of the solution most extensive manufacturers and dealers in the West. The company's assets of all kinds are fixed at $400,000, against stated liabilities of $120,000. At Kankakee, III., the company has a plant employing 500 men, and also has ware-houses at No. 507 Blue Island avenue, this city. The failure is attributed to the financial depression and the suspen-sion of bank credits.

PETITION OF INSOLVENCY.

Saw Francisco, Cal., Aug. 2.—W. Frese & Co., general importers, have filed a petition of insolvency. The firm's creditors are both local and foreign. The total liabilities are $144,000; the assets, $100,000. The reasons for the failure given are: First, the continuous decline in values of freight and all commodities; second, losses in South America and inability to collect outstanding accounts, caused by the continued depreciation in silver; and third, the general stagnation of trade.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Aug. 2.—The Suspension of the Toronto (O.) Banking Co. yesterday has caused the suspension of the Toronto Pottery Co., as stockholders in the bank are also interested in the pottery. J. M. LcLave has been appointed feceiver. Assets $20,00; liabilities nearly the same.

DIVIDEND ANNOUNCED. MEADVILLE, Pa., Aug. 2.-The committee appointed to examine the affairs of the bank-ne house of J. R. Dick & Co., now in liquidation, report liabilities of $412,000, and asset $608,000. A dividend of 10 per cent is an nounced for the 7th inst.

MINMAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 2.—Crocker, Fisk & Co., millers. have filed an assignment to & Co., millers, have fled an assignment to the Minneapolis Trust Co. The firm has been in financial straits for some time. Its assets and liabilities run about $200,000.

The Nevada Mill Co., the largest lumbering concern on the Facific Coast, has shut down its big mills in Mendocino County and called a meeting of creditors at San Francisco. Liabilities, $500,000; assets, $100,000.

MARTHUEN, MASS., Aug. 2.—The Methuen Cotton Mills will suspend operations Saturday for one month. Three hundred operatives will be out of work. The shut-down is ascribed to the financial stringency. The knitted fabrics company, employing fifty hands, have also given notice that the works will close Saturday for a month.

will close Saturday for a month.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Aug. 2.—The local plant of the Valley Falls Co., engaged in the manufacture of colored cotton dress goods, and running $40 looms with 135 hands and a weekly pay-roll of $1,000, has shut down for an indefinite period, owing to lack of market for the goods. The same company's mills at Valley Falls, running 1,500 looms and employing 600 hands, also shut down.

BASE BALL GOSSIP.

Yesterday's Double Attraction Turned Out to Be a Parce-Diamond Chips. President Von der Abe and Pitcher Arthur Clarkson had a disagreement previous to the first game yesterday, regarding financial matters, and Arthur refused to go in the box, until the affair was settled to his satisfaction. Chris refused to agree to this and nstead suspended the pitcher. This action on his part left the team with no regula pitcher, as Brietenstein had officiated the day previous, Gleason was suffering from a sore thumb and Hawley was being held in reserve for the second game. Manager Watkins then concluded to let Jimmie Bannon go in. The visitors however, soon knocked out any idea Bannon might have had that he was cut out to be a successful twirler, and Frank Pears, a local man, was brought in. The manner in which both these alleged pitchers were pounded who came out to see a ball game.

After the "Smoky City" boys had the game "cinched" Manager Buckenberger wanted the contest called and the next one pito ceeded with. President von der Ahe, however, strode forth on the field, and making his manager, Watkins, who is supposed to be managing the club on the field, loc. cher, as Brietenstein had officiated the matter what the score, "and the unfortunate spectators could do nothing but stay or go home and miss the second game.

Von der Ahe's idea in insisting on the game being played out was, as he says, darkness might interfere before the regular number of innings were completed in the second and save the Browns another defeat. Both games gave several of the Browns an opportunity to show what unreliable fielders they are. Crooks, Quinn, Shugart and Dowd were all guilty of the most slovenly and inexcusably bad ball playing. Crooks, Shugart and Quinn will certainly have to brace up, otherwise the club will not win another game again this season, providing the trio continue as they did yesterday.

Mianager Watkins made a big mistake in not imitating Buckenberger's move in saving Killen for the second game after the first was won. Watkins should have taken Peltz out, after the first game was lost to the Browns, and utilized Henry in the second. Peltz is one of the best batters on the team, and the chances are he would not have been found wanting, as Gunson was, with the bases all occupied with Brown legs waiting to score.

BRITATANIA AND SANTANITA. They Are Racing To-Day for the Meteor

Challenge Shield. London, Aug. 2 .- The yacht race of the Meteor challenge shield, presented by the German Emperor, was the chief event to-day among the yachtmen who are gathering at the Isle of Wight for the week's racing. The course covered a distance of about 100 miles, extending from Cowes, around the Nab Lightship, which is two miles east of the Isle of Wight, then around the outside of the island and up the Solent to and around the Bramble Lightship and to and around the Bramble Lightship and then back to Cowes, Only yachts built in Europe were sligible to take part in the contest. Although there were six entries only two started. These were the Frince of Wales' Brittannia and A. D. Clarke's Santanita. At So'clock the starting gun was fired and the Brittannia went across the line first, but the Santanita was close behind. There was a fresh westerly wind, which it is thought was more favorable to the Santanita than her competitor.

HYPNOTISM IN COURT.

Doctor Accused of Clouding the Mer ory of a Witness. TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 2 .- An unusual charge was made against the complainant in a suit at law on trial in the Federal Court here. The suit was for $40,000 damages, and was brought by Dr. J. S. Wintermute against James Stinson, a Chicago stockman. Wintermute has made the study of the occult a diversion, and it is said that he can mesmerdiversion, and it is said that he can mesmerize and hypnotize people.

Stinson sent him a lot of blooded horses a couple of years ago, and they were placed on Wintermute's farm for breeding purposes. Now Wintermute sues Stinson for services and the use of his farm properties.

The Court granted a motion for a non-suit, and Stinson began, through several of the leading law firms, to introduce his evidence. One of his witnesses seemed to have a cloudy memory. He could not remember; he halted and hesitated. Finally Stinson called the attention of the Court to the fact that the witness was being hypnotized by Wintermute. Judge Henford did not seem to consider the objections seriously, and the examination proceeded. The witness was asked some questions, but he still seemed muddled. Again Stinson arose and called the Court's attention to the witness's mental condition, and insisted that he was under a hypnodic spell.

In the case of Miss Katherine Price was also considered, Stevenson affirmed, but was dropped because a director suggested that she might "tel or sign something." Stevenson also alleges that Bogard failed to transfer to his (Stevenson's) account on the books $240 due him in a real estate transaction. The circular scores the directors, and declares that they have never removed Bogard from the board.

Secretary Brolaski has repeatedly stated that Bogard was no longer a director nor even a stockholder.

James Carson was one of the big men of Torrington. He was Treasurer of the Turner & Seymour company, a pillar of the Congregational Church and a leader in society. It was a great surprise when it leaked out last September that Carson was $30,000 behind in his accounts with the Seymour company, and that he had been crooked in engineering some land schemes. Many wondered why he was not prosecuted, and it was said that he knew some things that would place other prominent citizens of the town in an unenviable position. Suddenly, on Oct. 10, he disappeared from a Naugatuck train, leaving his valise behind. He was supposed to have committed suicide. Carson says he has just left a hospital in San Antonio and is now well. He is expected home shortly. tody of his business.

An Unique Tennessee Exhibit at the Union Depot. A great deal of interest was manifested to handsome car which bore the title, "Nashville on Wheels." The State of Tennessee made no exhibit at the World's Fair, and therefore the citizens of Nashville determined to supply the deficiency as well as they could. 'It was decided to fit up a car, which should contain specimens of all the products of the State, and within a small compass should give an adequate idea of its natural resources. A large sum of money was raised, the ladies of Nashville took charge of the decoration of the car and, as a resuit, a splendid and unique exhibit was gotten up and placed in charge of E. H. Hyman. The car arrived from Nashville this morning and visitors will be welcomed. Mr. Hyman will visit the World's Fair, and has obtained permission from the Director-General to place the car on exhibition on the grounds. A stay of three days will be made here and other cities will be visited. To each visitor will be given a book containing an account of the resources of Tennessee, and each lady will be given a lace handkerchief as a souvenir. car, which should contain specimens of
